

Professional Selfies: Bios & Headshots for Your Academic Self

A professional headshot and bio are necessary components of an online (or print) profile. Good ones make you approachable, communicate interests, and establish expertise. In this session, all attendees will create a bio they can use in a variety of contexts. The first 50 registered student and postdoc attendees will receive a free headshot, though the workshop is open to all.